Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM MONDAY July 26, to MONDAY Auguſt 2, 1742.

From the VIRGINIA Gazette.

WILLIAMSBURG, July 9.

THE Northern Poſt, which came in this Week, brought us no News; nor have we any News-Papers by the late Ships arrived here: Therefore ſhall give the Reports that are current, which are ſuppoſed to be made either by the Captains or Perſons that came in the ſaid Ships, viz. That Admiral Haddock was gone to England, in a 40-Gun Ship; and that he was frequently under great Diſorder of Mind. That our Mediterranean Fleet, now under the Command of Admiral Leſtock, was before Toulon, to block up the Spaniſh Fleet, which lay, in Conjunction with the French Fleet, in that Harbour; and that our Admiral had ſent to the French Admiral, to demand of him the Surrender of the Spaniſh Ships to him; and that in Caſe of Failure of ſo doing by the laſt Day of May, it was his Orders to deſtroy 'em in that Harbour: As this is aſſerted for Truth, we may expect to hear ſome extraordinary News from thence in a little Time. It is alſo reported, That there has been a ſmart Engagement in the Gut of Gibraltar, between two Engliſh and two French Men of War; and that one of each Nations Ships was ſo much diſabled, as to be render'd unfit for further Service. After they had fought ſome Hours in the Night, in which one of the French Captains, and a good Number of their Men were kill'd, they diſengag'd; reſolving to fight it out in the Morning. Accordingly in the Morning, the Engliſh made a Signal for engaging; but the French thought better of it, and ſent their Boats to acquaint the Engliſh Commodore, that he might ſearch them if he pleaſed; which was what the Engliſh demanded. There were alſo in Company, one other Engliſh, and one French Man of War, but it being calm, they could not get up with the reſt to engage. We have not yet ſo particular an Account of this Engagement as we could wiſh for; but we hear, there were of the Engliſh, one 80-Gun Ship, one of 50 Guns, and one of 40; and of the French, one of 80 Guns, one of 60, and one of 40; Capt. Balchen Son of Admiral Balchen, was Commander of the Engliſh 50-Gun Ship, and in the Engagement boarded the French 80-Gun Ship, and behaved with great Courage. It's further ſaid, that upon his Father's hearing this News, he expreſs'd himſelf with great Pleaſure, and ſaid, he was glad to find his Boy lov'd Powder ſo well.

CHARLES-TOWN, Auguſt 2.

Since the laſt Account which we gave of a Party of Spaniſh Troops having been defeated in their Approach to Frederica by Land, we have received Advice, That they attempted to attack that Town by Water with their Settee-Galley and Six Quarter-Galleys, but were repulſed by the Battery which commands the long narrow Reach up to it, as we expected they muſt be. The whole Number of their Fleet was 46 Sail, viz. 36 which firſt enter'd the Harbour, and 10 (not 16) which joined them afterwards, and which conſiſted of 1 Twenty-gun Ship, 1 Sixteen-gun Schooner, 1 Settee-galley with One Twelve and Two Eight Pounders, 6 Quarter-galleys with One Nine Pounder each, moſt of the reſt of the Veſſels were of 4, 6 & 8 Guns only, for the Tranſport Service.

On the 13th paſt, when the Flamborough, Swift and Hawk Men of War, and the Beauford Galley appeared off St. Simon's (as we mentioned in the laſt Gazette) the Spaniards, who then lay encamped on the Parade, were put into the utmoſt Diſorder. The General marched down from Frederica towards them with 600 Men, with a Deſign to fall upon 'em in the Night; and ſent off his Boat called the Cutter round the North ſide of the Iſland to inform the Men of War that they were ſeen, and to give them the neceſſary Information. But they were all ſail'd before that Boat cou'd get aboard them. In the Morning the 14th, the the Spaniards all embark'd with the greateſt Precipitation; and on the 15th the whole Fleet put under Sail, 20 Sail run over the Bar to Sea out of ſight. The reſt ſtood thro' Jekyl Creek into Cumberland Sound, and landed on St. Andrew's. The General followed with his Boats, and landed a Man on the North End of Cumberland, with Orders to Fort William to defend that Fort to Extremity, in hopes that our Men of War would have come up in Time, by which Means all that Part of the Spaniſh Fleet muſt have been taken. The next Day they divided. 12 Sail of the largeſt not being able to go through Cumberland Paſſage, ſtood out through that Sound to Sea. The other 14 Sail, being the Quarter-galleys and ſmall Craft, went within and made an Attack upon Fort William; but being repulſed by heavier Metal, run out to Sea alſo.

We hear, That Capt Hardy Commander of the Rye Man of War, who ſail'd from hence the 17th paſt, and joined the above Men of War then at Anchor of this Bar, arrived with them and Part of the Veſſels fitted out by this Government off St. Simon's the 26th. And finding that the Enemy had abandon'd that Place, he gave Orders the ſame Day to our Veſſels to return forthwith to this Port. And adviſed our Lieutenant-Governor, 'That he was going to 'proceed with his Majeſty's Ships off the Bar 'of St. Auguſtine in Purſuit of the Enemy.

On Friday laſt the 30th, 4 of the Veſſels fitted out by this Government returned into this Port purſuant to the Orders of the Commodore; and we are informed, That they left all the above-mentioned Men of War at Anchor off the Bar. But, we hear, That his Majeſty's Council, not expecting this (becauſe Capt. Hardy it ſeems, before his Departure, had the Opinion and Advice of the Governor and Council, in caſe the Enemy ſhould retreat from St. Simon's, to purſue them with his Majeſty's Ships and the Veſſels fitted out by this Government, and to endeavour (if it ſhould be practicable) to deſtroy them even in the Harbour of St. Auguſtine) ordered thoſe Veſſels immediately to hold themſelves in Readineſs to proceed again as ſoon as his Honour ſhould come to Town, who is now expected every Moment; and directed the Commiſſary to ſend out 30 or 40 Tuns of Water for the Uſe of his Majeſty's Ships, which it was ſignified they were in want of.

The Spaniards did not raiſe a Battery or land any of their Guns at St. Simon's as it was expected that they would. But when they quitted it (which was within 10 Days after their Arrival) they burnt all the Houſes there. As their Strength is ſtill in a Manner entire, altho' they have thought fit at preſent to retire from St. Simon's, upon ſight of 3 Men of War and their being in Want of Proviſions, yet it can ſcarce be doubted that they will ſoon pay another Viſit there or to Port-Royal in this Province; which latter Place it was, by the Information of Spaniſh Priſoners, their Orders to attack whether they ſucceeded or not at the former.

We are aſſured, That the whole Number of Men employed in this Expedition was 4500 of all ſorts.

Mr. Timothy,

THAT John Dutarque about Two Years paſt, or at any other Time, came to the Houſe of Benjamin Singletary when he was in a high, or any Fever, but that of Anger or Paſſion or offered him a certain Paper to ſign, and upon his Refuſal gave him bad Language and declared he would ruin him; as is alledged by an Advertiſement in your Paper No 431, IS ABSOLUTELY FALSE: But that the ſaid John Dutarque did, (upon Benjamin Singletary's claiming a Right to Two Negroes, under a pretended Deed of Gift, to his Wife's Mother, which the ſaid Dutarque had bought at a publick Sale in the Preſence of the ſaid Singletary, and which Sale he did not forbid;) expreſs ſome Suſpicions that the Deed of Gift was not genuine, is true. And whether ſuch Suſpicion was without Foundation let the World judge, when it is known that the ſaid Singletary, after having, as is alledged been poſſeſſed of ſuch Deed for upwards of Two Years, has ſuffered the ſaid Dutarque to remain in Poſſeſſion of the Negroes ſaid to be given by ſuch Deed, without daring to make uſe of it to recover them from him. Whether the Deed is, or is not a Forgery Mr. Dutarque does not ſay, becauſe in Truth he could never obtain a Sight of what is called the Original Deed, but if it be a genuine one, he challenges 'em to attempt a Proof of it in a Court of Juſtice; where he conceives there could be no great Difficulty to eſtabliſh the Validity of it, if it be genuine, either by producing the Witneſſes to it, or, if they are dead, or gone to Places remote, beyond the Seas, and unknown to the Advertiſer, by producing ſome creditable Perſons who knew the Witneſſes and their Hand writing: And 'till this or ſomething of this ſort is done Mr. Dutarque's Suſpicions concerning this Matter will remain let, what is called the Original Deed be in whoſe Hands ſoever it may.
